CRIME AND CASUALTY.

Confession of Cox, Mrs. Hull's Murderer—His Arrival in New York.

A Row About a Woman Causes a Negro Murder.

THE HULL TRAGEDY.

Boston, June 24.—Cox, the murderer of Mrs. Hull, says in his confession that when he was in the room of Mrs. Hull and the lady awoke and recognized the peril, she begged him to take anything of hers that he wanted but not to kill her. He then placed his left hand on her mouth, she struggling all the time to release herself. Finally she became quiet, he holding her firmly all the while and taking a sheet in his right hand he tore it with his teeth into strips. He placed one end of the sheet over her mouth and then proceeded to bind her as her body was afterward found. His object in tying her to the bed was because he found she might manage to roll off on the floor and thereby make a noise which would arouse the inmates of the house. He says that he had no idea that he was increasing in violence sufficient to cause death, or that even serious results would follow the affair. At this juncture he did not have the least idea that the woman was going to die. After tying her feet, he says he lighted a piece of candle he happened to have in his pocket, and which he had bought some time previous in pursuit of his honest occupation. He returned to the kitchen, where he got possession of the watch, and subsequently got the rest of the jewelry in the bureau drawers and in the bed chamber. He then returned to the chamber, and finding Mrs. Hull breathing hard, became frightened, and taking up the cologne bottle poured the contents over her face. She continued to breathe hard, and he dashed a pitcher of water that stood by, over her body. When he was searching for the jewelry, he went through the trunk of his victim and after pouring water over her, hastily fled by the front door which he left open, after him. He says he did not outrun Mrs. Hull, and further, that such a thought never entered his mind. On leaving the house he returned to his lodgings on West Thirty-sixth street, and got into bed without any of the inmates knowing it. He never drank any, and so he knew what he was talking about. The first he knew of the murder, he says, was on the next day. When riding on an Eighth avenue car the driver remarked, "What a terrible affair that was last night on Forty-second street; I see Mrs. Hull has been robbed and murdered." Cox says when he was told this the blood rushed up into his head and he felt as if he was burning. After saving the driver he went up to Forty-second street and on passing opposite Mrs. Hull's house he saw Detective Schenberger and other officers. He said he did not dare look at Mrs. Hull's house and went to his lodging. He came to Boston on Thursday following the murder, reaching here Friday morning. He returned to New York to get his things at his boarding house on the following Monday, and while on his way to his old lodgings passed the New York detectives again. They did not suspect him and he came back to this city on Friday last.

COX'S ARRIVAL IN NEW YORK.

New York, June 25.—Chas. Cox, the murderer of Mrs. Hull, was brought to this city this morning. He was first brought to the twenty-ninth precinct, in which the murder was committed, and the usual entry made on the blotter. He was then taken to police headquarters, where a large crowd had gathered. From there he was sent to the coroner, who committed him to the care of the police. Cox looked nervous, as if fearing an attack from the crowd.

THE committee on public grounds and buildings reports that it is impossible to ventilate the calaboose. That is patent to every sensible man. The committee is level headed.

THE city council last evening unanimously appropriated $300 toward the celebration of the Fourth of July, and voted to participate in the celebration. This action will meet with general approval, for the people are anxious to hold a first-class celebration of our nation's birthday.

THE city council last night showed very plainly that it does not view the city hall project with favor. The SENTINEL, while it favors the erection of a city hall as well as all other desirable improvements, sees no necessity for immediate action in this matter, or for expending any money now in building a city prison. All that is needed is a station house sufficiently large for the retention of prisoners over night and clean enough to satisfy the dictates of ordinary decency and common humanity. Are we to understand that the council proposes to leave the present foul and disgraceful nuisance undisturbed?

THE president has signed the army appropriation bill. There was no reason why he should not do so. The so-called political provision simply prohibits the use of the army "as a political force" at the polls, and as there is no law authorizing such use of the army, and no person claims that it ought to be so used, the prohibition amounts to nothing. In approving the army bill in its present shape, the president will have the approval of the country.—Indianapolis Journal.

That is a significant back down. If there was no reason why the president should not sign the bill, why did the republicans in both houses of congress (with three or four exceptions) vote against the bill? If no one claims that the army ought to be used as a police force at the polls, why did the republicans in congress oppose the bill prohibiting such use? If the president will have the approval of the country for signing the bill, what will the republicans who voted against it have? Will the Journal give fair, square answers to these questions, or will it continue the vain effort to take both sides of the question?

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY AT WASHINGTON.

The Gazette comes up to the rack this morning and endeavors to comfort its republican readers by the assurance that the democrats in congress have backed down and not the president. In order to decide whether or not there has been a back down it is necessary to recall what were the issues between the parties. The democrats wanted to prevent armed interference with elections; to repeal the jurors' test oath and amend the federal jury laws; and to repeal the act which allow federal officials to interfere with state elections. The first army bill was vetoed by Mr. HAYES because it prevented the repeal of the federal act which prohibited the use of the army as a political force at the polls, and as there is no law authorizing such use of the army, and no person claims that it ought to be so used, the prohibition amounts to nothing. In approving the army bill in its present shape, the president will have the approval of the country.—Indianapolis Journal.

TUTT'S PILLS!

A NOTED DIVINE SAYS THEY ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD READ WHAT HE SAYS!

Dr. TUTT.—Dear Sir: For ten years I have been a martyr to Dyspepsia, Constipation and Piles. Last Spring I was recommended to me; I used them (but with little faith). I am now a well man, have good appetite, digest food perfectly, regular stools, piles gone and I have gained forty pounds solid flesh. They are worth their weight in gold.

REV. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky.

A TORPID LIVER

Is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Liver Troubles, Bilious Fever, Ague and Fever, Jaundice, Piles, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, Colic, &c. &c. TUTT'S PILLS exert a powerful influence on the Liver, and will with certainty relieve that important organ from disease, and restore its normal functions.

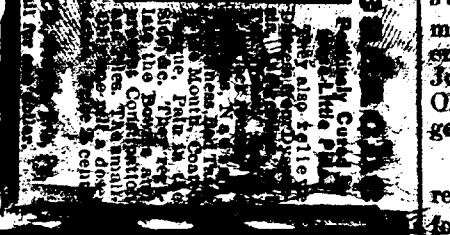

The rapidity with which persons take on flesh, while under the influence of these pills, of itself indicates their adaptability to nourish the body, hence their efficacy in curing nervous debility, dyspepsia, indigestion, the muscular sluggishness of the liver, chronic constipation, and imparting health and strength to the system.

CONSTIPATION.

Only with regularity of the bowels can perfect health be enjoyed. When the bowels are constipated, a single dose of TUTT'S PILLS will suffice, but if it has become habitual, one pill should be taken every night, gradually lessening the frequency of the dose until a regular daily movement is effected, which will soon follow.

Waterman covered 108 feet and 2 inches. Price 93 feet and 3 inches. After the contest Waterman's friends presented him with a ring valued at $25, as a testimonial to his skill as a jumper. The gentlemen have made another match to take place in Grand Rapids soon.

SHUCKS SPEAKS

The Inside History of a Lively Family Row.

Pleasing Picture of Life on Pontiac Street.

Louis Shucks, the night watchman who lives on Pontiac street, made a friendly visit to the SENTINEL office this morning. Mr. Shucks is the gentleman of whose breaking up housekeeping appeared in yesterday's issue. He states that the account was somewhat garbled. He says that he works all night and that on Sunday morning last he went home and went to sleep as usual. His wife attended church in the morning without any objection from him. In the afternoon while he was trying to sleep his wife's relatives paid her a visit, and kept up such a noise singing, etc., that he was forced to remain awake. At 4.30 he got up and the dinner dishes were still on the table, and no preparation made for supper, although he had to go to work at 5 p. m. Then he was mad, and with one grand coup d'etat he swept all the dishes from the table and smashed them into a million fragments (more or less). His wife then proceeded to call him pet names, such as a—, b—, c—, etc., and he responded with interest. In fact they had quite a match. He got his own supper and went to work, and says he shall never live with his wife again. He requests the SENTINEL to say that his neighbors must mind their own business in the future and not meddle with his affairs, or they will get into trouble.

A large number of bids on public work are awaiting disposition at the City Civil Engineer's office.

The annual commencement at St. Augustine's Academy, in this city, which take place next Friday afternoon, promises to be a grand affair.

Mayor Zollinger was waited upon this morning by a committee of two, consisting of John McElwell and George Wilson (not the late republican candidate for mayor). They were presented at court by the chief chamberlain, Mr. Diehl, who explained that they had been found laboring under severe exhaustion, superinduced by too great devotion to Jersey lightning. The mayor addressed the distinguished gentlemen in fitting words. McElwell, being a member of the committee to receive Gen. Grant at San Francisco, was allowed to proceed on his journey, and Wilson, having promised to attend no more champagne parties, was permitted to adjourn himself sine die.

MUSICAL.

Annual Concert of the Conservatory of Music.

A Very Creditable Entertainment.

Armory Hall was filled to its utmost capacity last evening by a highly intelligent and appreciative audience, who gathered there for the purpose of witnessing the eighth annual concert given by the pupils of the Fort Wayne Conservatory of Music. Precisely at 8 o'clock the exercises began, the following being the programme:

THE RAILROADS.

Supt. O'Rourke was at Grand Rapids yesterday.

An immense quantity of live stock is being moved east over the Pittsburgh road.

Freight business on the Pittsburgh road is now larger than for five years past, at this season of the year.

The prospect is that within two years there will be two narrow gauge railroads running into this city.

Woodruff Sleeping Coaches have been put on the Grand Rapids road between Grand Rapids and Petoskey.

According to the new tariff, the rates on freight from this city to New York are 88 percent of those charged from Chicago.

Indianapolis Journal: The leading spirits of the Wabash system or combination are men of wealth and sagacity, and the present market price of that stock reflects the confidence which these gentlemen repose in their plans, rather than an estimate of the value based upon the present system.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE "BLACK CROOK"

Drew another large and fashionable audience at the Olympic last night, some of the first families of the city being represented. The spectacle was put on the stage in good style. It will be repeated every evening this week.

BE YE LIKE FOOLISH.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that my doctor could tell what was the matter, but could not cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured. She is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Be ye likewise foolish."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.

Decorate.

The committee on decorations for the Fourth of July would most respectfully request that the citizens of Fort Wayne will, on the coming Fourth, decorate their private residences, business houses, etc. Preparations are being made to have this celebration the grandest and most imposing one that has ever taken place in our city, and we desire that a display of national decorations from private residences, business houses, hotels, etc., will be equal to the occasion.

By order of the committee on decoration. 624, L. P. STAFFORD, Chairman.

Prize Fight.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by using a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had looked at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their eyes be deceived, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as "Hop Bitters."—The Parents.

SALT RHEUM AND DANDRUFF

Cured That Several Physicians Had Failed To Treat Successfully.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen— I have had the Salt Rheum on my head and all through my hair, also on my legs for the past four years, having suffered exceedingly with it. The dandruff falling from my hair was very annoying, and I consulted several distinguished physicians in regard to it, and have taken their prescriptions as ordered but did not find any cure and but little relief. I was told by many persons who have the Salt Rheum, that there was no cure for it, that it was in the blood, and I should always have it, and I was almost inclined to agree with them, but a friend wanted me to try CUTICURA, made by your firm. I did, and to my astonishment, in less than three weeks, my hair was entirely restored, and I can see any appearance of Salt Rheum on my person. I think it a wonderful remedy.

Respectfully yours, GEORGE A. MUDGE.
